Dutch Forces Attack Indonesia

RULER APPEALS
FOR U. N. HELP

Attackers, in Communique,
Claim They Hit Only
Military Targets

(By Associated Press)
BATAVIA, Java, July 21—President Soekarno said by radio tonight the Dutch were attacking his Indonesian republic by land, air and sea. He appealed to the world to force the United Nations Security Council to take up the issue.

A Dutch communique said Dutch warplanes had attacked Republican airfields in Java and Sumatra because Indonesian fighter planes were ready for action.

Hit Military Targets

The Dutch, declaring they would not attack either the civil population or non-military objectives, were attempting to immobilize harassing anti-aircraft guns at the fields and the Republican air force, believed to number about 40 obsolescent Japanese planes, many in poor repair.

The Republican radio, over which Soekarno appealed, said Dutch artillery had opened fire south of Bandung, 100 miles southeast of Batavia. The report said two Dutch planes using rockets attacked Tasik Malaya, in West Java, and that other Dutch aircraft had started a Soerakarta-Sragen railway train.

Acting Governor-General Hubertus J. Van Mook described the Dutch operations as "police action," but the Indonesian news agency Antara reported—before it was closed down—that Dutch planes had bombed and strafed Republican airports throughout Java and that Dutch troops were attacking simultaneously at several points.

Sharp Fighting Reported

Antara quoted Gen. Soedirman, Indonesian army commander in Jakarta, as saying that sharp fighting was under way at Semarang north coast city 250 miles east of Batavia, and that the Dutch were attacking not only front lines "but also in the interior"—a statement that suggested the possible use of airborne troops or paratroopers.

"Although there has been no official declaration of war, it is, however, clear that the Dutch in reality have declared war upon the republic," Soedirman was quoted as saying.

He added that "the initial Dutch attacks were received with calmness and discipline" and appealed to Indonesians to rally to defense of the republic.

Closing down of the Antara offices in Batavia cut off the principal source of news here and left a confused picture of the general situation for the Dutch refrained for the moment from issuing any communique on the progress or scope of their operations.

The situation was further confused when the radio at Jogjakarta, Republican capital, went off the air suddenly in mid-morning without giving any explanation. Its silence immediately roused speculation that it might have been the target of air attacks.

The agency indicated that Dutch columns were striking out in an effort to secure the rich sudane of rice country of western Java, but said they were meeting stiff resistance.

Calmly knitting a blue sweater, 8-year-old Natalie Wood listens while a Los Angeles court approves her $1,000-a-week film contract. Her income, under court's decision, will reach $3,300 weekly in seven years, but 30 per cent must be invested in government bonds.

House Passes Bill
Outlawing Poll Tax

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 21—Legislation to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections was passed today by the house. It now goes to the senate.

The vote was 290 to 111. There are no plans for consideration of the bill this year in the senate, where it has been blocked repeatedly in the past by southern filibusters.

Called up unexpectedly, house action came over the futile objections of a group of southern representatives who tried parliamentary devices to block a final vote. They succeeded only in delaying the show-down several hours.

Led by Reps. Rankin (D-Miss) and Pickett (D-Tex.), the southerners asserted the legislation invades the right of states to run their own elections and thereby violates the Constitution.

Proponents said the seven southern states that have poll taxes have used the tax to prevent large groups of citizens from voting, in violation of the Constitution.

GI TERMINAL LEAVE
BILL ON TRUMAN DESK

WASHINGTON, July 21—A bill allowing ex-GIs to trade terminal leave bonds for hard cash was before President Truman for his signature today.

The senate completed action on the bond bill Saturday. If the President signs it, it will permit veterans to start cashing in the bonds Sept. 1 of this year.

Approximately $1,800,000,000 (B) worth of the bonds have already been issued to ex-servicemen. If they wish, they would be entitled to hold them for the full five-year period and collect the interest.

3,000 National Guardsmen
Open Camp Perry Session

CAMP PERRY, July 21—Nearly 3,000 Ohio National guardsmen were here today for their two-week summer training in small arms fire and military fundamentals.

The guardsmen spent the night in barracks instead of tents as was the case in 1940 when the ONG last trained here. The barracks were left over when the War department returned the camp following its use as a prisoner-of-war camp.

Nine Army Life Rafts
Cross Lake Successfully

LUDINGTON, Mich., July 21—The Army today marked up as a success its first mass life raft crossing of Lake Michigan, an 18-hour, 65-mile voyage completed despite rough winds and high seas.

Nine of 11 motor-driven rubber rafts that started the trek from Sheboygan, Wis., at 10 a. m. Saturday made port here Sunday. The last two adding in Ludington harbor at 4:20 a. m., 18 hours and 20 minutes after showing off.

Truman Cites U. S. Prosperity,
Warns Of Inflation Dangers

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 21—President Truman said today the nation has surged to a pinnacle of "unprecedented prosperity" but must strengthen its defenses against inflation.

In a special mid-year economic report to congress, the chief executive declared that production now is running at a rate of $225,000,000 a year, far surpassing anything in history, and added:

"We can place the high production and the high employment that we have today on a firm foundation of enduring prosperity and peace."

But threaded through the 30,000-word document were four C's—corn, coal, construction and commerce overseas—named by Mr. Truman as developments which mean that "inflationary problems may become stronger."

Renews Price Cut Plea

Terming price reductions still necessary in many areas, the President said they must not be swamped in a wave of speculation caused by the forecast of a short corn crop or by a wave of new wage and price boosts pegged to John L. Lewis's coal contract settlement.

Mr. Truman said there are as yet "no grounds for real alarm nor for general speculative increases in food prices" arising from the forecast of a corn harvest 20 percent below last year's. But in the event real shortages should develop, the report recommended:

1. Full publicity as to the true farm outlook, perhaps including a campaign for "strict economy" in the use of some foods.

2. Quick planning for conservation, through export controls and possibly by renewing the government's recently lapsed power to control the amount of grain used by distillers and other processors.

Mr. Truman renewed his plea of ten days ago that coal, steel and other industries forego immediate price increases until they test the real costs of the wage boost won by Lewis's miners.

Stable Steel Prices Sought

"Stability in steel prices would be a wise economic policy for this industry as well as for the country," the President declared, whereas increases based on guesses and an "exaggerated interpretation" could "start another price-wage spiral in motion."

"Another general surge of price inflation would have only one result—the sharp recession which it is to everyone's interest to prevent," Mr. Truman said.

He added that price cuts and boosts in substandard pay rates are still needed as he said they were when the first economic report was made in January but that meanwhile corporation profits have gone on to new record heights.

"It is evident," the chief executive asserted, "that in many cases business profits are more than adequate to permit price reductions or wage increases, or some combination of both."

Mr. Truman reassured industry, however, that he does not seek or expect a return to pre-war price levels.

Construction No. 1 Problem

Construction—and especially housing—remains in some respects "our domestic problem No. 1," Mr. Truman said.

The general health of the economy

115,000 GM PLANT
WORKERS ARE IDLE

DETROIT, July 21—Some 115,000 automobile production workers of General Motors Corp. plants began a week of idleness today because of sheet steel shortages.

Industry statisticians estimated the shutdown of all fabricating plants in Michigan would cost the nation 25,000 to 30,000 passenger cars.

Another 65,000 workers in other GM auto plants across the country will be sent home next week because of the steel shortage. Michigan closures included all Fisher body divisions and the Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac assembly plants.

The Michigan unemployment compensation commission instituted "special procedures" and planned to keep some offices open at night to handle an avalanche of jobless benefit claims.

Body Is Recovered

CLEVELAND, July 21—The Coast Guard has recovered the body of Andrew Kris, 25, of Elyria, second victim of a June 10 boating accident, four miles offshore in Lake Erie.

William Varga 21, of Cleveland, drowned with Kris.

so far has concealed the dangers in highbuilding costs and lagging construction, he said, adding:

"But is it none too early to be concerned about a possible relapse of housing into its prewar state of chronic ill-health and instability?"

As for foreign commerce, exports have skyrocketed to an annual rate of $20,700,000, creating "some strain" of shortages at home. But foreign nations are running out of gold and dollars and exports "must be expected to decline before the end of the year," even if new foreign aid is granted, Mr. Truman asserted.

AAF DEVELOPS
SUPER BOMB

Air Forces Soon To Test
42,000-Lb. Non Atomic
'Block Buster'

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 21—The Army Air Forces is developing and probably will test in the next few months a 42,000-pound super-size bomb.

So far as is known, this will be the largest standard-explosive—that is, non-atomic—missile ever made.

The weight of the bomb suggests that it is intended for use in such aircraft as the B-36, which is capable of carrying 36 tons of explosives and is equipped with a bomb bay of enormous dimensions.

The AAF had even larger bombs—some of 100,000 pounds—under consideration and in the blueprint stage but designers said privately that they had a curtailed research program resulted in shelving these projects.

They described the 42,000-pounder as a "general purpose, block-buster" type.

Man-Made Quake

There was a hint over the weekend, meanwhile, that the military may be looking into the future for an even more fearful weapon—an atomic bomb which when dropped from a high altitude might sink deep into the earth and produce a man-made quake.

An AAF announcement of forthcoming tests with deep-penetration bombs on a submarine assembly factory at Farge, Germany, reurred specifically only to two standard-explosive bombs developed since war end. They are the 25,000-pound "Amazon" and "Samson."

But the announcement concluded with this cryptic statement:

"With the introduction of atomic warfare in World War II, it is logical that the need for these specialized types of bombs may be even greater for future defense."

The extent to which deep penetration bombs can bore into the earth was demonstrated during the latter days of the war when Britain's Royal Air Force caved in a tunnel 135 feet below ground.

Signals Wife from Plane,
Crashes to Death Nearby

TOLEDO, July 21—James A. Persons, 26, of Athens, O., and his brother-in-law, Paul N. Price, 36, were killed yesterday in the crash of their small plane after it had swooped low over Price's home at suburban Harbor View to signal a safe return from a flight to Grand Rapids, Mich.

Witnesses said the L-2 Taylorcraft piloted by Persons was banking to the left with its engine cut out about 200 feet above ground when it crashed about 200 feet from Price's home.

Mrs. Price, who had been watching the plane from the porch of her home, ran across the street to the plane and attempted to pull her husband from the wreckage.

Brothers Tussle, One Dies

CAMBRIDGE, July 21—A friendly wrestling match between two Cambridge brothers resulted today in the death of 25-year-old Patrick McElroy—presumably from a heart attack.

Coroner W. A. Larrick said he was withholding his decision pending an autopsy.

McElroy died in St. Francis hospital several hours after last night's scuffle with a 20-year-old brother, Jack, at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McElroy.

UnAmerican Activities Probe

5 Million Communists Strive
For Third Major U. S. Party

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 21—An estimate that there are about 5,000,000 Communists or sympathizers in the United States—all pushing for a "major third party"—was given the house committee on un-American activities today by Walter S. Steele of Washington.

Steele was the first of 14 witnesses scheduled as the committee began a week of public hearings on Communist activities.

He testified as chairman of the National Security committee of the American Coalition of Patriotic, Civic and Fraternal Societies. The coalition is an organization of 84 societies promoting patriotism, Steele said.

He gave this break-down of Communists and their sympathizers in this country:

1. Upwards of 100,000 card-carrying members of the Communist party.

2. Another 100,000 candidates for party membership.

3. Approximately 4,800,000 members of Communist front organizations.

Steele gave reporters a statement saying many of these men are now in the Army reserve.

"Their loyalty is to the Soviet union," the statement declared, giving this quotation from the witness' prepared testimony:

"The most alarming phase of the situation is the manner in which these forces penetrated our armed services, and the fact that our government permits in the United States the functioning of a reserved (sic) armed force whose loyalty is to another power."

The statement added without amplification that Steele "commended the War department's recent move to counter its past laxity."

'Missing' Woman Arrives
Home In Chester, W. Va.

EAST LIVERPOOL, July 21—A former Chester woman, reported missing on a trip from her home in West Palm Beach, Fla., to the home of her father in the nearby West Virginia community, turned up at the home a few hours after East Liverpool police had been asked to check on her disappearance.

According to the local department, the woman, Mrs. Peggy Weigel, became sick on the plane on which she made the trip and stopped over at a Pittsburgh hotel to recover. She arrived in Chester at 5:23 p. m. Saturday.

None Injured In Minor
Traffic Mishaps In City

Two minor traffic accidents were reported by local police over the weekend, neither of which resulted in injuries to occupants of the cars involved.

Cars driven by Harry Ehrhart of 928 S. Ellsworth ave. and Charles Abbott of 444 Ohio ave. collided in the alley between Oak and Pershing streets at 4:40 p. m. Saturday. Abbott backed into Ehrhart's car, slightly damaging the left front fender of the latter's vehicle.

Albert D. Borton of Damascus reported that his car was sideswiped by a car driven by James Belfast of Youngstown at 3 a. m. today. Borton was crossing the railroad tracks on W. Pershing st. when the accident occurred.

Both cars were slightly damaged.

PEACH BOTTOM, Pa., July 21—Swarms of May flies halted three freight trains pulled by 350-ton electric locomotives last night on the Pennsylvania railroad line between Port Deposit, Md., and Harrisburg, Pa.

Mother Of 5 Killed
As Car Leaves Road

Columbiana county traffic claimed three lives over the weekend. Two Lisbon men were killed in separate accidents Saturday night and a Hanover township mother of five died at 10:30 a. m. Sunday in Mercy hospital, Canton, of injuries received in an accident near East Rochester Saturday night in which one of the men was killed.

Thomas Arnold Clemens, 41, of Lisbon, died en route to a hospital at 10:50 Saturday night after a jeep driven by Mrs. Elva Jean Adams, 23, of Lisbon, went out of control and straddled a guard rail on a curve one mile east of Elkton.

Mrs. Adams was removed to the Salem City hospital.

Coroner Ernest Sturgis, after an investigation, said manslaughter charges probably will be filed against Mrs. Adams. He reported several witnesses agreed the jeep was traveling at excessive speed.

In the crash, Clemens was thrown out of the jeep and landed on the road. He died of severe internal injuries. Mrs. Adams remained in the vehicle.

Die In Hospital

Daniel Henry Hephner, 24, of Lisbon, died in Mercy hospital, Canton, of injuries received when his car struck a utility pole near East Rochester late Saturday night.

Mrs. Donald Frost, 30, of Hanover, a passenger in the car, succumbed to injuries in the hospital, and four others were injured when the car swerved from the highway.

Others in the car included Mr. and Mrs. Wick Miller, Larry Bellish and Charles Lindesmith, all of Hanover township.

Mrs. Frost died of a deep laceration of the left leg, severe shock and back injuries.

Hephner's injuries were listed as a broken neck and back injuries.

According to information given the state highway patrol, the Hephner car sideswiped one driven by Mrs. Ruth Guthrie Ferris, 26, of Minerva, R. D. 3, then plunged into a big utility pole owned by the Ohio Public Service Co.

Clemens Funeral Tuesday

Clemens was born in Tridolphia, W. Va., May 17, 1906, a son of Daniel and Maude Frazier Clemens, but had resided in Lisbon for 30 years. He was a mechanic at the Denkhous Motors garage. He was a member of Salem lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post of Lisbon.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Elsworth Taylor of Lisbon; three brothers, Edgar Clemens, Lisbon R. D. 2, George Clemens, Lisbon R. D. 3, Daniel Clemens, Kensington; a sister, Mrs. Eugene Jones of Youngstown and three half-sisters, Mrs. Russ Russell and Miss Mildred Taylor of Lisbon, and Mrs. George Lutsch of North Georgetown.

The body was taken to the Eells funeral home in Lisbon where friends may call this evening.

Funeral services will be held at the funeral home at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Lisbon.

Showers and another shot of westerly winds were keeping temperatures on the cool side throughout Ohio today.

The weatherman promised to turn off the rain early this afternoon, with the sky clearing tonight and the mercury hanging around a point too cool for swimming tomorrow.

A temperature range of between 50 and 56 degrees was forecast for tonight, and a high of between 70 and 75 degrees tomorrow.

Today's temperatures in Salem were running parallel to Sunday. The maximum yesterday was 70. It was 67 at noon today. Last night's low was 56.

Ohio Hangover

There's never a dull moment in Ohio's liquor department. Now a special Senate committee recommends that a grand jury look into the reason the department has five years supply of blackberry brandy, 10 years supply of a liqueur and enough other slow-moving brands of keep shelves filled well into the 1950's.

Dale Dunifon, the new liquor director, reports some firms have agreed to take back excess supplies, but warehouses still bulge with brandies nobody wants, least of all customers. Ohio had $29,758,276 worth of liquor on Jan. 25, compared with $2,679,798 in 1941. The committee says three weeks supply, or about $2,500,000 worth, is an ample backlog.

A grand jury should look into what inducements, if any, were offered to lay in such excessive supplies. The committee says it is difficult to believe such errors are an honest mistake. As for Mr. Dunifon, if he can keep the liquor department a scandal-free, smoothly-operating unit once it gets straightened out, he will be performing a feat that looks easy from a distance, but isn't, to judge from past performances.

Potential Isn't Enough

Hanson W. Baldwin, military writer for the New York Times, is one of the principal spokesmen against universal military training. He deplores continued emphasis on our military weakness, if weakness it is. "We certainly are not 'weak,' absolutely or relatively in either actual or potential military strength," he says. "We have elements of weakness, but we also have great elements of strength. Potentially, we are still—by virtue of our industry, our sea power, our air power—the greatest military power in the world, far superior to Russia."

It's that word "potentially" that hurts your argument, Mr. Baldwin. You don't conduct military operations with potential armies, you conduct them with armies in being.

Nobody knows what the future holds. Maybe a youth trained under the UMT never would have occasion to put his knowledge to work. Let us hope that would be the case. But certainly young people trained in any kind of organized effort will have a better chance of acquitting themselves well in any national emergency which might come to pass. As one of your contemporaries on the other side of the argument says, referring to what will need to be done if war comes, "Only the authors of these feverish protests will stand and gape at the skies."

New Wrinkle

Another thing working men and women aren't bawling about the new Labor Management Relations Act by union spokesmen is the new wrinkle on the law's enforcement.

To make certain that the persons appointed to the National Labor Relations Board don't get any New Dealish illusions about interpreting the Labor Management Act to suit any arm-twisting minority, Congress created a watchdog committee, to be composed of 14 congressmen, half of them from each House.

One of the specified jobs this committee must do is watch the administration and operation of existing federal laws relating to labor relations. That means the NLRB henceforth will be under 24-hour scrutiny and that its members and employees can be called on the carpet at any time to give an account of themselves.

The new wrinkle comes, of course, from congressional impatience with a long line of New Deal agencies, including the NLRB, on occasion, which ran away with the authority Congress gave them. Robert N. Denham, the new general counsel, Abe Murdock, the lame-duck Democrat from Utah who will fill one of the two new NLRB jobs, and J. Copeland Gray who will fill the other, will not be tempted to run away. Denham apparently is in sympathy with the law. "When the smoke has settled and we get a clear, fair and dispassionate view," he said, after his appointment, "I am confident we will find that it will not be nearly as hard to get along with as some people feared." A congressional committee will be breathing down the back of his collar, to make sure he continues to feel that way.

A Job Well Done

Resignation of Robert P. Patterson as secretary of war concludes an outstanding career of government service. A federal judge, Mr. Patterson became assistant secretary of war in 1940 when the army was expanding rapidly. He handled assignments of tremendous importance with responsibility and dispatch, attracting the attention of Harry S. Truman, then a senator. When Henry L. Stimson resigned the secretaryship in 1945, President Truman did not have far to seek for a successor.

Since becoming secretary, Mr. Patterson has been occupied with the army's postwar problems, chief among which is the armed services unification program. Now that this is well on its way to becoming law, Mr. Patterson feels he is free to retire. The nation wishes him well on whatever tasks he undertakes in private life.

Settlers For Australia

Australia is bidding for 400,000 workers to emigrate from England, and it appears England is willing to spare them provided they comprise a cross-section of the population. This is a country which has a manpower shortage is willing to spare some of its workers because it could get along with fewer mouths to feed on imported food.

Australia is far too sparsely settled for full development. With only 7,000,000 inhabitants, its cities are separated by vast stretches of uninhabited land. It could do with at least 20,000,000. It is one of the anomalies of these times that a country with a manpower shortage is willing to help make up that deficit.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, July 22

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

GENERALLY fortunate and progressive conditions may be anticipated on this day, judging by the lunar aspects.

There is promise of advancement, promotion, preferment and surprising tokens of esteem or reward from superiors, employers or others in important places.

Such splendid auspices are likely to be negated or diverted into the wrong channels, by frivolous behavior or giving away to erratic impulses or emotionalism. Adhere strictly to conventionalism and discretion.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find opportunity knocking at the door, with excellent promise of advancement, desirable change, tokens of admiration and esteem from those in influential positions.

But any sort of imprudent, wayward, or frivolous conduct may have power to undermine exceptional prospects for progressive, adventurous and happy conditions. Seemingly unimportant words or actions may have force in determining final issues.

A child born on this day has fair promise of success and advancement in life, although it may nullify such prospects by impulsive, erratic or trivial behavior.

Masked bandits robbed a "used" car lot in an Illinois town. They knew where the real money is.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Infection Which Develops In Chest Walls

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOMETIMES, after a severe bout with some germ-caused disease, the patient will develop an infection or abscess of the lining membrane of the chest walls. This is called empyema. Depending on its severity, larger or smaller amounts of fluid and pus collect within the chest cavity.

In almost every case, empyema develops as a complication of some other disorder, especially one which has been long-drawn out and difficult to control.

After Pneumonia

Empyema occurs particularly as an aftermath of pneumonia. It may, however, occur as a result of chest wounds or follow such contagious diseases as influenza, scarlet fever, measles, typhoid fever, and tuberculosis.

Disorders within the abdomen such as abscess below the diaphragm or abscess below the liver may also be responsible. Such germs as pneumococcus, staphylococcus, streptococcus and tuberculosis organisms are most often responsible for the infection.

The condition, as a rule, may be diagnosed by the fever and other symptoms it produces, together with an examination by a physician which reveals fluid in the chest cavity. Of course, the X-ray is also most helpful in confirming the diagnosis.

Treating Empyema

Empyema may be treated in a number of ways, depending upon what germs have produced it.

According to Dr. Thomas J. Kinsella, of Minneapolis, in treating empyema it is important to keep up the patient's nutrition with a well-balanced diet in order that he may be able to overcome the infection present. Some method is employed for getting rid of the fluid in the chest cavity. This may be done by sucking it out with a syringe and needle. Sometimes, the chest cavity is washed out after the fluid is withdrawn.

A tube may be passed into the chest cavity so that the fluid may be drawn out and antiseptics, penicillin, or sulfonamide preparations may be introduced. Sometimes, what is known as open drainage is tried; that is, an operation called rib resection is performed and the fluid is removed.

Fluid Withdrawn
When the fluid is withdrawn from the chest cavity using a needle and syringe, it is possible to determine by examination of the fluid what germ is responsible for the infection, as well as the extent of the infection within the chest cavity.

This method of treatment seems to get the best results in the infection in children and in the treatment of empyema which has just developed.
If such method of treatment does not bring prompt results, drainage through a tube is, as a rule, instituted. This method has the advantage of not requiring repeated drainage of the chest wall. It makes complete healing possible after the fluid is removed and penicillin or sulfonamide drugs are instilled within the chest cavity, thus overcoming the infection.

Empyema does not occur as often nowadays as it did in times gone by, because, with penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs, lung infections are more quickly eliminated.

EXTRA EFFORT

GETS A
BIG RESULT!

Garment cleaning processes aren't all alike. A man who tried MIRACLEAN Service for the first time recently expressed surprise when he discovered this fact... "That suit," he said, "has been to a lot of different cleaning plants, but it never came back looking as fresh and clean and snappy as it does now!"

It is the extra effort required by MIRACLEAN methods that makes a BIG difference in the result... MIRACLEANING assures the removal of the deep stains that frequently show up again after ordinary cleaning; and it takes out all the perspiration that less thorough methods leave in to cause "boardiness" about the knees and in sleeves.

MIRACLEAN'S Extra Effort Service brightens stripes and checks that have been dulled by soil; it restores original garment softness by balanced replacement of fabric dressings; it gives a "tailored" finish that holds press and conforms to your body contours better... IT is the Extra Effort in MIRACLEAN Service that gets a BIG RESULT in your satisfaction.

Just phone for this service... it goes right to your door.

Large Bridal Party Feature Of Cosgarea-Tancer Wedding

With a bridal procession of 16, the wedding of Miss Betty Jean Cosgarea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cosgarea of W. Pershing st., and Frank Victor Tancer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Tancer of East Palestine at 4 p. m. Sunday in the Emmanuel Lutheran church was Salem's largest summer wedding.

A three-tone color scheme, white, blue and yellow was accentuated in the beautiful gowns worn by the bride and her attendants. Two groupings of palms and ferns with arrangements of white gladioli and asters, flanked by white candles in tall seven-branch candelabra made a background for the lovely scene.

While the guests assembled, Mrs. W. J. Seeman played a program of nuptial airs including, "At Dawning," "O Promise Me," "Always," "I Love Thee" and "Call Me Thine Own." She accompanied Mrs. Robert Talbot, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Just before the benediction Mrs. Talbot sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

The traditional wedding marches were played.

Rev. John Bauman, pastor, heard the exchange of vows in the double ring ceremony.

Dodger-Cardinal Feud Flares In Protest Game Sunday

Manager Eddie Dyer Enters Protest On Home Run Ball

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sunday, July 20, may well turn out to be the day when the National League pennant was won—or lost.

It was on that eventful day at Ebbets' field—where the 1946 flag race was decided—that the seven-year-old Dodger-Cardinal feud flowered anew.

When the smoke had cleared Manager Eddie Dyer of St. Louis declared he was playing the game under official protest. Had the Cards won, Dyer undoubtedly would have recalled his protest, but since the Dodgers turned apparent certain defeat into a 3-2 victory with a brilliant three-run rally in the bottom half of the ninth inning, the protest took on added importance.

What brought about the wrangling and the subsequent protest claim was the denial by the umpires of a home run to Ron Northey, squat Redbird outfielder, in the top of the ninth.

With the Cards ahead 2-0 and two out, Northey propelled a Hugh Casey pitch to dead center that appeared headed for the stands. The ball struck the top of the barrier, glanced off a pipe along the top of the wall and rebounded on the field.

Northey, speeding around second, caught sight of Umpire Beans Reardon waving his arm in a circular motion near third and slowed down to a trot. Card Third Base Coach Tony Kaufman, seeing Brooklyn Outfielder Dixie Walker scooping up the ball and throwing it into the infield, gave the hurry-up sign to Northey. Ron picked up speed rounding third, but was nailed at the plate by two feet via a Walker Stanky-Bruce Edwards relay.

After five minutes of heated squabbling during which Northey and Dyer insisted that Ump Reardon had signalled the blow was a home run, Plate Umpire Jocko Conlan ruled that Northey was out, whereupon Dyer announced his official protest.

The grounds for the protest are these: Reardon, in gesturing that Northey had an automatic homer, caused Ron to slow up on the bases. If Northey had been running it out, he conceivably would have scored. Questioned about the incident in the dressing room, Northey said:

"As I passed second, Reardon held up his hands and said, 'What are you running for? It's a home run.'"

The decision lies in the hands of League President Ford Frick. Should Frick uphold the protest and order the game resumed from the point of disagreement (as the rule provides), the Dodgers' great rally would be nullified and an important victory perhaps lost.

The Dodgers gained a half game on the second place New York Giants, increasing their margin to three games, when the Giants split a doubleheader with the Cincinnati Reds at the Polo grounds.

Ewell (The Ed) Blackwell, stringy side-arm slinger of the Reds topped his 15th consecutive victory and his 17th of the campaign in winning the opener for the Reds 4-1. A pair of home runs by Bobby Thomson highlighted two big innings for the Giants and enabled them to win the second game 9-6.

Detroit's Tigers swept both ends of a doubleheader from the American league leader New York Yankees 4-1 and 12-11 and moved within nine and a half games of first place.

The Yanks tied a big league record by having no runners left on base in the opener.

Blasting 16 hits, Pittsburgh routed Lefty Warren Spahy and walloped the Boston Braves 9-1.

The Chicago Cubs made it 12 victories in 13 games with Philadelphia by defeating the Phils twice 4-2 and 2-1.

Bobby Feller dropped another 1-0 decision as the Cleveland Indians split with Washington. The Indians took the nightcap 6-1.

The St. Louis Browns, with the aid of home run hitting, defeated the defending champion Boston Red Sox twice, 4-3 and 7-6 and the Philadelphia Athletics retained their fourth place hold by earning a split with the White Sox in Chicago, winning the second game 7-4 after Chicago had won the opener 6-5.

HARDER LEADING TRIBE PITCHING; FELLER LOSES 8TH

Bobby Fast Becomes Hard Luck Man of Staff, Mel Breezes To Sixth

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 21—Mel Harder, now in his 20th year with the Cleveland Indians, today was the Tribe's leading pitcher and Bob Feller was headed for the dubious honor of being the club's leading "hard luck" hurler.

The veteran Harder allowed six hits to beat the Washington Senators, 6 to 1, in the second game of yesterday's doubleheader for his sixth victory against one defeat.

Feller, although he allowed only six blows in the opener, ran into little Mickey Haefner, who applied the whitewash brush to the Tribe and the Nats walked off with a 1-0 victory.

Rapid Robert's record now stands at 11 victories and eight defeats, which for him is a poor showing. But the records show Feller has deserved a better break.

The last time the whirlwind New York Yankees were in two, Feller kept them in check for eight innings only to lose, 2 to 1, when the Yanks pushed over a run in the ninth.

Yesterday's game followed virtually the same pattern. In the second inning, Mickey Vernon drew a walk and raced all the way home when Stan Spence, a Feller nemesis, blasted a triple. That was the ball game.

Harder, still a mound master despite his years, had little trouble in the nightcap, as the Indians snapped out of their temporary hitting doldrums at the expense of Walt Masterson.

Managers Asked For All-Star Votes

Managers of each of the 19 city Class A softball teams have been asked by Joe Kelley, league manager, to submit their choices for league all-star teams; this week, in preparation for the opening game at the new West Side park.

Lists should be submitted to The News office and should include eight players and three pitchers each. Managers will vote on a team from their own league only.

The mythical team selections should be turned in before Thursday.

Wife Held For Murder

In Mate's Flaming Death

INDIANAPOLIS, July 21—First degree murder charges were on file today against a mother of 10 children who said she became tired of arguing with her husband so she drenched him with gasoline, threw a match at him and stood aside as he burned to death.

Mrs. Katherine Franklin, 47, said she and her husband, Phillip, 47, had several drinks at the home of relatives and then started arguing.

She went into the kitchen and returned with a can of gasoline which she poured over her husband. As he started up in surprise, she struck a match and threw it on his drenched clothing.

Franklin became a humanitarian. The blaze spread quickly through the living room and gutted the rest of the house.

Mrs. Franklin, meanwhile, remained outside the house where the relatives found her after they broke her children from the flaming structure.

Friends may call at the Finnick home in Struthers Tuesday afternoon and evening.
